Hidden beauty

Hidden Beauty captures the duality between mystery and revelation. The piece explores what lies beneath the surface: identity concealed, then gently disclosed through form and color.

Serenity

Serenity translates stillness into geometric language. Warm palettes and soft symmetry create a meditative presence — art that breathes calm into a room. Available in two tonal variations, each piece carries a different quality of quietness: one luminous and open, the other deep and introspective.

Pattern

Pattern transforms the studio's geometric vocabulary into an endless, living surface. Designed to expand beyond the frame, this piece reimagines art as something that can inhabit a space in multiple ways as a print, a tile, a wall covering, or a decorative object.

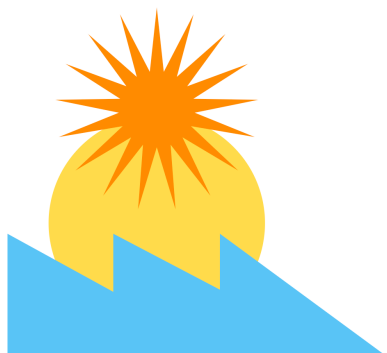

It is geometry set free from the canvas: a single motif that multiplies, fills, and brings rhythm to kitchens, corridors, and everyday surfaces where art is usually absent.

Sea meditation

Mares distills the horizon into its purest forms — sun, water, and movement. Minimal geometry evokes calm, depth, and the rhythmic essence of coastal life, reimagined through a contemporary Dubai lens.

Freemind

Freemind is a celebration of creative liberation and cultural fusion. Ornamental borders inspired by Islamic decorative traditions frame a central geometric figure alive with Latin rhythm and color. The piece is a dialogue between structure and freedom, discipline and spontaneity — a visual manifesto of art without borders.

Fire love

Fire Love is a dragon made of passion. Behind the bold greens and deep black, there is a love that stays quiet — until it wakes up. And when it does, it burns bright. The red details stand out like sparks, moments where emotion breaks through. This piece is about the kind of feeling that changes everything: intense, alive, and unstoppable.

Flowers in Concrete

The “flowers on the concrete” root themselves into the environment, anchoring their geometric cultural heritage within a space of richness and sophistication.
